The Islamic Research Institute (IRI) was established in 1960 to develop a methodology for research in various fields of Islamic learning; to identify and study contemporary problems and interpret the teachings of Islam in order to assist not only the Pakistani society but also the whole Muslim world, so that the Muslims could regulate their individual and collective conduct in accordance with the imperatives of Islam. For this purpose, the Institute is engaged from its inception in a serious research on various themes of contemporary sciences in an Islamic perspective. Keeping in view this need of the time and in accordance with the objectives of the Institute, and to promote quality research and scientific writing three training programmes are designed to revive the decades old tradition of IRI for research training. The Institute also organizes seminars, conferences and workshops. An overview of the activities of IRI from 2015-2022 is as under:
